The Full Program Subscription includes all the benefits provided above with the Chief Subscription, plus:

- ✓ Access to the NLADA Insurance Program to obtain professional liability and other insurance coverage at great rates.
- ✓ Free section membership in the American Council of Chief Defenders for both the Chief and Deputy chief defender. ($250 value)
- ✓ Every staff member in the program qualifies for the program (lowest) rate when they register for NLADA training events such as trial skills, appellate training, leadership and management skills, or death penalty litigation. ($150 avg. value per training)
- ✓ 10% discount on NLADA Technical Assistance and Program Evaluations, which provide your program with a team of consultants to measure your office performance against national standards. Many defender chiefs have found this an invaluable way to increase funding and improve their services.
- ✓ Entire program staff can access the members-only resources on the NLADA Web site, including online access to defender materials and publications.
- ✓ Access to section membership for entire program staff, including access to list serves to exchange information with peers across the country.
- ✓ Real clout with policymakers. NLADA is the national organization for public defenders, working on issues that matter to indigent defense providers nationwide – like student loan forgiveness for defenders, protecting attorney-client privilege, Byrne grant funding, advocating for due process in "terrorism" measures, and much more. When your full program joins NLADA every person on your staff adds their voice to their national organization, creating a stronger voice for defenders across the country.
